About Canton Fair

- The fair is held twice a year in the capital of Guangdong Province, in a city named Guangzhou. It is held in a purpose designed and constructed exhibition centre capable of housing circa 48,000 exhibitors across the three phases that constitute each fair.
- Guangzhou is an industrial city its population estimated at circa 23 million, making it around 120 times the size of Birmingham.
- These are all important facts when considering a visit to the Canton Fair. The complexity of the city and the sheer size of the city suggests that a structured approach is necessary. Add in the language difficulty and the different food then indeed much time is diverted from the event to organised general daily living.
